Tomsk

Tomsk is located on the banks of the Tom River, in the east of Western Siberia. The city is rich with its unique attractions: monuments of stone and wooden architecture of the 18th-20th centuries. But there are also numerous entertainments. More than 500 thousand people live in Tomsk, a large percentage of which are students. Because of this, there are many youth-oriented establishments. Therefore, it can be called a student's city. Tomsk ranks 85th among the best student cities in the world and 3rd in Russia.
